Sheep killed.—On the night of Sunday, the 21st inst., George Wood, near Washington, in this county, had forty sheep killed and sixteen wounded by dogs. That looks very much like a dog law ought to be passed for this county and rigidly enforced by the officers.

Palmer's Cosmetic Lotion has cured my face and hands, also my legs and feet, of an eruption, after having spent ten weeks and five dollars in the different N. Y. Hospitals, without any real benefit to me. Writes Dennis McMan, 99 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

Insurance.—Mr. George R. Gill advertises the Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York, in our paper to-day. It is a most excellent company, and is doing a tremendous business. It is a favorite wherever it operates. Mr. Gill will take pleasure in giving all particulars desired.

Furniture.—Joseph F. Martin is determined to keep up with the times in the variety, quality, and cheap prices of his stock of furniture. He has just received a large supply which he offers for sale at the very lowest rates. Give Martin a call for any thing you want in his line. See his advertisement.

Daniel Webster was right when he remarked of the press: "Small is the sum required to patronize a newspaper; amply rewarded its patron, I care not how humble and unpretending the gazette he takes. It is impossible to fill a printed sheet without putting into it something that is worth the subscription price."

Stock Sale.—The following is a list of sales made by Messrs. Yancy & Alexander on Monday, March 8th 1869, viz:

1 bay horse	150 25
5 do.	113 00
1 do.	109 00
1 white cow	34 00
1 red do.	27 50
1 cow and calf	49 50

Printers.—We take pleasure in calling especial attention to the card of Hendricks and Hancock, house, sign and ornamental painters and glaziers, which may be found among our new advertisements to day. They are both industrious men, painstaking and careful to give satisfaction, and their work will compare favorably with that of the foremost masters of their art. They deserve patronage and are fast winning public favor.

The editor of the Lexington Statesman, after listening to James Barbour's speech in that city on Monday night last, says: "Lexington wants a railroad that will cheapen the price of fuel. We are not by any means certain that any other road will do this to a greater extent than the proposed one from Paris to Maysville. Our people would do well to watch that road, and it may be, extend a helping hand to it."

Shoemaking.—We call especial attention to the advertisement of Phillip Wheeler, to be found among our new advertisements to-day. Mr. Wheeler does his work well and cheaply, and is determined not only to derive for his establishment the reputation of being the cheapest store in the city but one of the very best in this section of the State. A new broom sweeps clean, and a young beginner will be apt to deserve patronage. Give him a call.

Sale.—Col. L. B. Goggin reports the sale of John B. Morrison's property near Washington Ky., March 6th 1869 as follows viz: One wagon, $57; one plow, $31; one harrow, $13; one black sheep, $1; two calves $12; ten small hogs, $50; one bay mare, $76; one old gray horse, $77; one roan horse, 202 50; one do. 226; other property sold at good prices. The day was very cold and disagreeable.

The Maysville Sun.—We take pleasure in chronicling the advent of the Maysville Sun among the Democratic papers of this city, and in welcoming its proprietor into the editorial and publishing fraternity. The Sun is neatly and highly printed, and gives every indication of enterprise and future thrift. Mr. Welch has already obtained a goodly list of subscribers, and we predict for him a brilliant success. The Sun is edited with ability, zeal, and spirit.

Important to Whisky Men.—Congress passed, before its adjournment, a bill to extend the time for paying duty on whisky in bond for one year from the 15th of April next. This is a great relief to our distillers, who would have had a hard time of it if they had been compelled to pay the duty on the large amounts of whisky which they hold. This indulgence will stimulate the production of whisky to a considerable extent, and enable distillers to carry very heavy stocks through the season.

The Sarsaparilla Diggers of Yucatan.—This singular set of people are descended from the ancient Aztecs, of Southern Mexico, and still retain some of the peculiarities which Stephens and Prescott gave of their ancestors. Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., employ a small army of them in digging Sarsaparilla root. Provided with narrow spades, a coil of rope, and a bag of water, they are ready for the forest where the wild banana furnishes them food, and thick-leaved trees their only shelter. Few of those find themselves rejuvenated by this product, know how much they are indebted to the toil of these humble laborers, who dig health for thousands of Doctor Ayer's patrons, while they sometimes lose their own. —Boston Commercial.

"Tall trees from little acorns grow, Large areas from little fountains flow."

Seven years ago the Plantation Bitters were but little known. To-day there is not a nook or a corner of our land where they are not found and used. The sale has reached the enormous number of Five Millions of Bottles annually, and it is constantly increasing. It only shows what can be done with a really good medicine, and a systematic course of making it known. Perhaps no medicine in the world was ever so deservedly popular as the Plantation Bitters. Go where you will, among the rich or poor, and you will always find these Bitters in use. Their merit has become an established fact, and we cordially recommend them in cases of dyspepsia, loss of appetite, chills and fever, headache, &c., &c.

Magnolia Water.—Superior to the best imported German cologne, and sold at half the price.

Dye's property, March 2d, 1869, 5 Miles West of Washington, Ky., viz: one bay Horse with one eye out, 9 years old, $122; one Brown Mare 9 years old, $180.00; one Colt, $50.25; one brown Colt, $60.00; one Store, $18.00; one Bedstead, $12.00; one Wagon, $31.00; one Sow and 10 Pigs, $75.50; one old Cow $21.00; one year old Heifer, $13.35; nine Calves, $152.00; 11 common Sheep, 27.50; farming implements &c., &c., Sale at fine prices.

Turnpikes.—On the 27th the Senate passed a House bill to charter the Central turnpike road company in Mason county. Our impression is that this is the road running from W. V. Baldwin's to Nicholas Mills.

Also a House bill to charter the Newport and Mason turnpike road company.

Also a bill to charter the Augusta and Bourbon turnpike road company in Bracken county.

Also a House bill to amend the charter of the Mayslick and Murphysville turnpike road company.

On the same day the House passed a bill to amend the charter of the Lewis and Mason county turnpike road company.

On Monday, March 1st, the House of Representatives passed a bill incorporating the Mason and Fleming turnpike road company.

On the 1st inst., the House passed a bill incorporating the Maysville, Cabin Creek and Springville turnpike road company. We expect to have a railroad to Portsmouth before that pike is built.

The House has passed a bill to amend the charter of the town of Washington in Mason county.

The Kentucky Senate on the 27th ult., amended and passed the House bill to charter the Licking and Big Sandy Railroad Company. If this road is built it will run from Newport through Maysville to the mouth of the Big Sandy.

A bill to incorporate the Washington and Lee's woods' turnpike road company passed the House on the 1st inst.

The Annual Meeting being the forty-sixth anniversary of the Maysville and Mason county, Kentucky bible society was held in the Maysville Presbyterian Church, Sunday evening, March 7th, 1869. Religious exercises were conducted by Dr. Savage and the Rev. Mr. Spillman.

Rev. George S. Savage, agent of the American Bible Society, for Kentucky delivered an exceedingly interesting address explaining the history and operations of the society, especially in the work of translating and publishing the scriptures in the Arabic, Chinese, Spanish and other languages.

A collection was then taken up, the whole sum collected in Maysville at the present time was eighty dollars.

Dr. G. W. Martin presented a minority report opposing the granting of said privilege and setting forth the reasons for such opposition. After some discussion the vote was taken in the majority report which was accepted and the ordinance adopted.

The Marshal was instructed to serve written notices upon Dr. Shackelford, W. P. Watkins and Richard Watkins to have their pavements altered so as to conduct the water from off their property in Market street, between 3rd and 4th streets, and that said work must be done under the supervision of the committee on internal improvement.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

"Quelle heure a il?"—Which being liberally translated means "Will you please, sir, tell me what time of day it is?" The question has often been asked, Have we a Bourbon amongst us? The answer has invariably been, yea, my Lord!—and a Duke too, and a good deal of time. But now the question is, have we a Quadrant amongst us, or a Sextant, or a Compass, or any other horological instrument, that will indicate the period in the twenty-four hours. If there is such an instrument, and if there is any one who knows how to manage the same, let it be brought out—ignore Velocipedes for the time, and ride the quadrant. Why? There is a general complaint as to the time—not as to time exactly, but as to the correct time. Now we will give our readers an instance. A few days ago our city clock struck 12—high noon, Pearce, Wallingford, Barbour & Co. were on the full sent—we looked at our watch, which, by the by, is one of 'em, having been brought over by William the Conqueror, or somebody else, and we found that we were terribly wrong, or else the aforesaid city clock was, and we are satisfied we are right. But to be certain we started out on a tour of inspection. As we approached the East we found that twelve was far off. We tacked about and came towards Sutton. We were further off still. South towards the city watch tower we were still more amiss. We sought for Squire Wood, who sets the sun—no—we mean, who sets by the sun, but as usual he could not be found, and then we were completely at sea, while yet on land.

We recollect when we were but a school boy how our eyes opened wide, when Uncle Jacob used to tell us just at noon that the Chinese were about through their first nap. We envied the Celestials then, and don't know but what we did, breakfast, dinner, and supper. But now time has become a thing of practical value and the whole community are with us as to the necessity of having it right. If the distance of one hundred yards latitude makes such a mighty difference what must be the condition of our friends at Washington. If perchance one of their citizens is delayed until late in the evening, he ought, if time be consistent, to find his family at breakfast, when he gets home. Now one of two things must be done. Either friend Lillston, Clark, and Myers must get together, and arrange as to when 12 o'clock is to come. Or else we must all join the Mahometan prayer, have a Muezzin to call the hour of prayer from a Minaret,—or we must have a guano to fix a schedule,—or we must go by railroad. But, gentlemen, jewellers, please harmonize. If you conclude that noon is to be at half-past eleven say so, if at one o'clock, say so. And then there will be some regularity as to our up-risings and down sittings.

Vice la Railroad.

Horse and Mule Trade.—The Paris Kentuckian says: The country between Paris and Millersburg has always been the great mule region of Bourbon. Several hundred have changed hands there within the last few days.

Rescued.—It was J. G. Porter, of Maysboro county, Alabama, a noted newspaper correspondent, who recently died in Brazil, instead of Colonel James Porter, of Montgomery, Alabama, as at first supposed by the Kentuckian and other papers.

Mr. Pleasant Lilly tells us that Colonel Jas. Porter recently returned from Brazil to Montgomery. "The fatted calf was killed," and he was welcomed back at one of the largest banquets ever given in the city. Before the war Colonel Porter was in the habit of spending his summers in Kentucky with Mr. Lilly, who was his partner in the mule trade, and will, we learn, be here this Summer. Like most emigrants to Brazil, he returns broken up in fortune.

C. C. Skillman starts this week with a lot of mules and horses to Georgia for W. A. Osborn. Mr. Osborn brought a lot of mules on Monday, auctioned by Hambrick, of Georgetown, at $143 75, after having offered $150 for them on Saturday.

Wm. Bowden returned from Georgia, having closed a most successful season's trade. Besides the mules he brought here, he bought and sold largely there. Several are premium thoroughbreds, among them the James horse from Clark county, that took premiums at Paris, Lexington, Cynthia, Georgetown and other places last year. Capt. M. has other thoroughbreds in the lot that are much finer, but they have never been on exhibition. Among the roadsters are Pea Vine and Beaky Bird. These two animals have taken nearly $6,000 in premiums. All the stock has been selected "with an eye single" to the requirements of the market to which it is taken.
